

THAT'S OUR GAS!

Did you know?

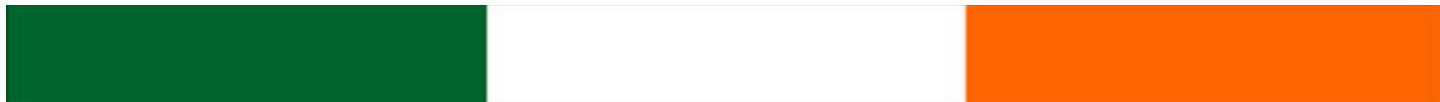

- The Corrib gas field and associated gas fields off our north-west coast are worth about €16 billion.
- They are owned and controlled by foreign oil companies.
- The people of Ireland will gain little if anything from this gas.

What can you do?

- Get informed
- Tell others
- Write / e-mail / call / visit your TD

(Your Address)

Dear (TD's Name),

I am writing to you in relation to the Corrib gas field off the coast of Mayo. As I am sure you are aware, this has been a controversial project in terms of the economics and environmental implications of the deal. The field and nearby fields could be worth a minimum of €16 billion and Ireland will gain very little, if anything, from these natural resources.

As your constituent, can I ask for your support in seeking a renegotiation of this deal whereby I, all of your constituents and the people of Ireland can benefit more from this find, while doing so in an environmentally-responsible and safe manner.

Yours Sincerely

(Your Name)
